

OPERATOR GOES EAST GOLDFIELD MINING DEALS

McMahon Thinks Camp Is Going To Stage Comeback That Will Be Startling

H. G. McMahon of Goldfield arrived in Reno last week and left for New York and Boston immediately. His mission east is in regards to Goldfield stocks. It will be recalled that on his return from New York about three weeks ago it was announced that Charles Redmond, the big Boston stock broker with branch houses in 25 eastern cities, would come to Reno and Goldfield about the 15th of this month. Plans along that line were laid, but the public butted in and interfered. It was their plan, so says Mr. McMahon, that Mr. Redmond should come out here and then through his houses a big market might be started. Meantime the public has come into the market so strong that plans have been changed and Mr. Redmond's trip is delayed until late October and H. G. McMahon is on his way east, says the Reno Journal.

Mr. McMahon said last night while waiting for the train:

"On account of the public having come into the market so strong Mr. Redmond found it quite impossible to leave his business at this time. He wanted to see that things got started right and when the market is in full swing which it will be soon, then Mr. Redmond will come back with me. It makes a better arrangement all around. By the time Mr. Redmond can get here early in October there will be much more interesting developments to show him. By that time I hope that Red Hill Florence will have a regular old style Florence ore shoot.

"This is quite within the limits of possibility—in fact, it is looked for by those best posted on the peculiarities of the Florence formation. We are well south of the east-west fault, and on this, the new side of it, we find on leaving the fault formation that it is identical with that on the other side, where the bonanza ore shoots were found. We are now working four faces in Red Hill. The south side of the vein, the face of the two faces of the drifts north and crosscut and the face of the upraise on the vein. We are now in a formation that carries values with every pound. While it is true that we have not as yet found one of those rich deposits that made Goldfield famous in the early days, yet it is also true that the formation is identical. Even to the showing of silver in the values that in many instances prevailed on the other side of the east-west fault also prevail here. Not only this, but every other known indication of the close approach to a rich ore deposit is present in our present workings.

"At the Deep Mines shaft we are now down 1,340 feet in a dactile and the bottom of the shaft is still dry. We are working three shifts, two in the bottom of the shaft and one doing some repair work in the shaft. Soon as this is done the third shift will be put to work at the bottom of the shaft. The vast importance of this work is just beginning to dawn upon the public. Every other mining camp has had its comeback. Why not Goldfield? In almost every instance the comeback of other camps was on deep mining. That's what we expect in Goldfield. We have proven in the Red Hill that the same formation lays south of the east-west fault that does north. It is now only a case of locating the ore shoots. We held the correct theory on Red Hill and feel very confident that our theory of ore at depth at or near where the Deep Mines shaft is also going down will also prove true.

"In the Goldfield Development property we are opening a big property. The outcroppings show big and strong on the surface for over 700 feet, and while we have opened a big tonnage under the outcroppings that show ore, we have not as yet gotten in the biggest values. We are in about 1,100 feet by tunnel and have got to under the surface showing. The company is now well financed, as is also the Deep Mines company and the Red Hill Florence, Sandstorm, Kendall and Kewannas.

"To return to Red Hill, I would say of the indications that blisumth is showing in the face of the south drift. Now, it does not always follow that when blisumth is encountered that a bonanza ore shoot is found, but it is a fact that there has never been a case where blisumth was not encountered close to it. When I was in the mine yesterday the little bright blisumth particles were very much in evidence.

"Again, regarding the Deep Mines company, much credit should be given George Wingfield. I was he who first planned the project. He has been a very large stockholder from the very start. I am looking for a marked revival of all the Goldfield stocks. The market has just started and before long the prices of today will look cheap to us. The east is buying heavily. It is on account of the very heavy eastern trading that Mr. Redmond had to put off his trip two or three weeks. It is much better, as then when he gets here all his machinery will be in motion and we will certainly have more to show him."

Chesterfields are too "different"—too unlike the average type of cigarette—to jump into popular favor over night.

But we believe Chesterfield's record for sustained steady growth surpasses anything in cigarette history.

In the long run, quality does tell.
